The use of several different exterior construction materials often leads to architectural disaster, but in this case the materials have been combined with good taste. The house is well designed in regard to room relations and ventilation.

Q. What is the cause of paint peeling from exterior of a house? A. Peeling is often caused by water getting in and behind woodwork, Federal Housing Ad-nuinistration experts recommend that an inspection be made of the roof, valleys, and gutters to see whether there are any places where the water can get in and behind woodwork. If such places are found, necessary repairs and caulking should be done. After-

From a Soldier

THE RED CHOSS has been sending the soldiers service bogs filled with the many little things that a soldler finds handy.

An Ohio chapter has just received this letter from a moldier on duly at one of the nations most fonely and isolated outposts, a mere dot in this great war:

Dear Friends: Your gift, which was presented in me through our officers, has been very useful and spirit lifting. Hot only did everything make itself useful but it carried the thought with it that we do have unknown friends who think of us. I hope the day shall soon come when I will be able to repay your chapter for such a great favor. I know that such people are hard to find these days. In such places as this, little gifts like your bag of useful things can mean an awful lot to us fellows. When things like that happen to us we just want to get in there and fight for such people as you and we know - that deeds will be greatly appreclated"

The soldier has left little more to be said. His letter is printed principally for the thousands of women who have worked at the many lobs the fled Cross is sponsoring to make the life of the men in uniform more pleasant. Perhaps the task will be lighter when they know that their work is appreciated. Perhaps, also, the lift which such things give to the morale of the fighting forces is an important weapon in the general picture of this war.

U.S. at the Wheel

DECISION of the office of defense transportation to take control of trucks, busing and taxicabs out of the hands of state and local authorlifes may help to impress on the operators of these vehicles the necessity of conserving their machines and their tires.

Experiences on the highways indicate that many of the truck drivers have not heard that America must save subber. Passenger traffic has slowed down considerably and now, for the most part, it is the trucks which have held the cenier lane, passing all other traffic on the road.

Few deliveries are so urgent that they call for breaking the 40-mile war speed. More trips mean more profits, however, and some of the truckers have ignored the appeal for a general slowdown. - With the ODT empowered to revoke certificates of any truck which violates regulations, these monsters of the highway will be brought into line with the general wartime pace, saving rubber and promoting the safety of other drivers who are keeping within the 10-mile limit.

Planning Post War World Davies Says "Nations Must Unite To Outlaw War."

By JOSEPH E DAVIES. Former Ambamador to Russia

quer the earth, the "New World Order" will, so long as they retain control, ensiate the rest of the world. We do not have to prove that. All three of the aggressors not only admit it, but proclaim it. What the immediate port-war tions victory is renomiably clear. There will be doubtless complete agreement on certain conditions. The energy states will be dis-armed. Enemy peoples, whether crazed or injected with anti-peace ideas, will be either hospitalized or quarantines to preserve peace of the community and prevent the spread of infection. Justice will panish those who are re-spensible for mass murder. This will be done in no spirit of vengeance, but as a matter of protection of society and is a rational possible preventative against fu-

The rehabilitation and reconstruction of men, women and children, as well as war-torn lands, will be a first post-war obligation. Problems To Increase

The secondary period of postwar reconstruction will be more difficult. Self-preservation made e a more-sity for the non-aggressor nations to win the war. The post-war world will require even a greater degree of unity, but it is probable such agreement will be more difficult. subsided and many forces-naalonalistic, economic, racial and otherwise - will again assert themselves. To win the peace, the post-war world will have to make certain, at least, of two things, namelyt

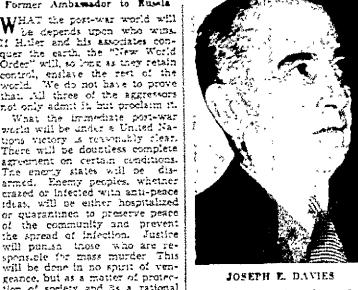

1. That the peace of the community of nations cannot again be broken by bandit aggressors who through sheet strength would bank, a committee was appointed to arrange for a program Oct. 17 with Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin, Tex., as the speaker. Making up the committee were Mrs. Frank H. King. Mrs. D. H. Harvey and Mrs. W. H. Hinklin.

plunder and ensiste their neighbors; and,

That war as a method for the settlement of disputes petween nations or as an instrument of national policy shall be outlawed and made imposs,ble.

The first of these requires universal disarmament, enforced by the combined nations.

The second requires that the and principles which shall bind each, and be enforced by all. That will require judicial machinery to apply these laws to the settlement of disputes and thus avoid war. It will require also a federalized police force to guard and preserve the common peace. Similar power will have to be lodged in an international should, who shall have the power - enforce the mandates of the court, after judgment on the facts and the law has been rendered.

Such rules in the interest of all the nations must cover economic as well as political principles. They, too, must be agreed upon by autonomous nations in the common interest and machinery must be provided for their execution and enforcement Fair and free opportunity will thereby be assured to every member of this international community to develop all of its resources, economic as well as spiritual, under such system of free enterprise or other-wise as it may elect. Thus through fair access to raw materials each nation will have freedom of opportunity to earn its place in the sun of international prosperity and well-being.

In my opinion, it is not wise at this time to attempt too specifically to define either territorial, economic or social programs too far ahead for the future post-war world. We are all united in a supreme purpose now to win this war. That job is a big one. If we rest our discussions for the present upon general principles, v we can all accept, there will be no danger of impairing that unity. The principles of the Atlantic Charter are broad enough. If we would not break faith with those who died, we must first win this war. Then with wisdom, tolerance, common sense, generosity, with strong heart and strong hand we must build on strong and solid foundations if peace is to endure.

8,900 MARION CITY and COUNTY CHILDREN ARE STARTING BACK-TO-SCHOOL

Minutes may be precious in these days when every second counts in the production of materials to win this war, but they can never be as precious as the lives of our youngsters. The opening of school calls for increased caution on the part of auto drivers.

Unless you want to be responsible for the death or injury of a little child, you will heed the signals of the School Boy Patrol, school lights and the warnings that say "School — Slow". Remember, trying to save a minute may cost some child his life... and that child could be YOURS.

A share of the responsibility for the safety of YOUR CHILD-REN rests on YOUR shoulders, but the School Boy Patrol deserves our praise and cooperation for the great work they are doing in protecting our boys and girls from injury and even death resulting from tast, careless driving, YOU can help these youngsters by being careful and conscientious in your driving . . . by remembering to obey all the safety rules that apply to some driving.

For Sunday, Sept. 13

SINDAY'S horoscope holds excellent auguries for all the conventional affairs of the day. with the clerky and all excis-slastical pursuits advanced. Spiritual interests may be onhanced and contacts with superiors fairly gratifying, However, there are minor disappositionals or semacks, with an unexperted turn, brought on possibly by energies or emotions. Those whose birthday it is may have promise of some benefits and advancement, with superiors and those in power in large organizations showing preferments, but this could be upset by hasty, rain, impetuous and emotioned outbursts.

A child born on this day should have much zeal and enterprice, with cleverness and astuteness.

For Monday, Sept. 11

MONDAY'S astrological foreeast is for social, domestic and zentimental activity, with much dramatic thrill in this direction, possibly precipitated by a sudden disturbance from unexpected sources and probably having some complication of a publie, community or group affilia-Mon.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year in which the sentimental, social or romantic relations hold the limelight. While this may have its thrills there may be unforeseen disturbance, estrangement or disappointment, probably attributable : to duplicity or treachery.

A child bern on this day may have some unique talent or artistic ability, with enterprise.
